DecoButterfly

Flower decorations

Hand carved butterflies from Wildlife Garden can be used for indoor or outdoor decorations. The magnet on the back of the butterflies allows you to attach them to the metal wire that is included which can be wound around the twig of a flower or bush.

At first glance, the butterflies look real, as though they are just about to fly to the next flower. But there is no danger of a DecoButterfly flying away since they are hand carved flower decorations from Wildlife Garden. These butterflies provide your plants with life when they are not in flower. They make a great present or a lovely decoration for your own plants. Our most common butterflies have been artistically hand carved in lime and hand painted using environmentally friendly outdoor paints. DecoButterfly is a collection of lifelike reproductions of Europe's most common butterflies: Brimstone, Peacock, Holly Blue, Swallowtail, Camberwell Beauty, Red Admiral and Comma.

The butterflies have a magnet that can be attached to all metal surfaces and drawing pins. A metal wire with green rubber casing is included, which can easily and gently be wound round the twig of a flower or bush.

Idea: Put several drawing pins into the wall at different levels and attach different varieties of DecoButterfly to them. The more the better.

DecoButterfly has been designed and developed by the Swedish company, Wildlife Garden. Wildlife Garden's products are decorative and are made with sustainability and the environment in mind.
