Multiholk Plus

From a feeder in the winter to a nesting box in the summer. New multifunctional nesting boxes from Wildlife Garden.

Multiholk Plus functions as a feeder in the winter and a nesting box in the summer. In the winter you fill the house with food and the garden's small birds sit and feed on the surrounding perches. The small perches allow the small birds to sit in peace and not be disturbed by the larger birds, which are unable to use the Multiholk. The food is also well protected from rain and snow.

In the spring you clean the nesting box, put in the bottom plate in and open the catch for the entrance hole, turning the multiholk into a nesting box for tits and sparrows.

Multiholk Plus is supplied together with a mounting plate, making it easy to mount it on a wall or tree. It is easy to fasten and unfasten the Multiholk in order to refill or clean the house. It can also be mounted on a pole in the garden.

The Multiholk is design protected and developed in collaboration with expert ornithologists.
